Reference

These couples are taken from the poem "اللذة الحكية". The poem is taken from the book "النزاعة الرشيدة". In this poem, the poet is expressing the boys' feelings in the morning. He has created a beautiful nature and how beautiful everything looks in the morning. We have to be thankful to Allah for his blessings.

Central Idea

There is no limit for all the blessings that God (Allah) has bestowed on us. We have to be thankful to the creator always and it is our duty to thank him.
Song of the boy in morning:

The rising over the mountains:

The sun has risen.
And the darkness ran away.

Thanks to the only God,
It is obligatory to thank him.

How beautiful the light is,
I can see everything smiling there.

The birds are singing at dawn.
Standing on the branches.

Explanation

In this poem, the poet is expressing the beauty of the nature which is made by the creator. One fine day, the sun has risen and the night has disappeared. It means that yesterday has gone and all worries of yesterday has gone. And today is a new day. The light of the sun is so beautiful that the birds are standing on the branches and singing. The poet wishes not to be lazy. He tells that Allah protects him from everything and all evils in the darkness. He thanks the creator, Allah for what he did and is doing and thanking him always.

6. How beautiful the magnificent light is, that helps me to work hard.

إنني أوكُن دائمًا، إلا أكون خاملاً

6. I wish always, Not to be lazy.

الله وقد أشركني من كل شر من الظلم.

9. Allah has saved me From all evils of darkness.

شكراً له قد سماشي شكراً له على الدوام.

8. Thanks to Allah who protected me always
Thanks to him always.
